SOAPSTone Reading Strategy Guide (adapted from The College Board)

To encourage and strengthen readers' interaction with and comprehension and analysis of text.

| Speaker Who is the voice that tells the story? The author and the speaker are NOT necessarily the same. An author may choose to tell the story from any number of different points of view. Is someone identified as the speaker? What assumptions can be made about speaker? What age, gender, class, emotional state, education, or In nonfiction, how does the speaker's background shape his/her point of view?
